For Immediate Release:

In the afternoon on Sunday, April 25th, a fire broke out at the Hyannis Harbor Hotel. The fire caused extensive damage to one of the wings of the building. We are all grateful that no one was injured. We are also thankful to the Hyannis Fire Department and Fire Departments from the Towns of Barnstable, West Barnstable, Yarmouth, Cotuit, Dennis, Mashpee, Sandwich, and Centerville that responded to the incident. Their professionalism, bravery, and efficiency successfully limited the damage in wind driven conditions.

While the fire did significant damage, impacting a full wing of the hotel, the hotel is continuing business operations. Like so many of our colleagues in the restaurant and hotel industry, our business has been severely impacted by Covid-19 since March of 2020, and we had looked forward to a more normal 2021 season. We are heartbroken by the impact this incident is having on our guests.

We are working now to accommodate future guests in our separate freestanding building overlooking Hyannis Harbor. We are also evaluating the services and amenities we will be able to offer this season because of the incident. Our wonderful team is responding to the challenges presented by these circumstances, and we do not expect any reduction in our team this season.

What has otherwise been a deeply difficult situation has been offset by an outpouring of support and encouragement from our neighbors, guests, and friends in the community.

We are now working with the Town of Barnstable and our local contractors to begin the repair and rebuilding process. Our entire team is committed to restoring the damaged building and our ongoing efforts to operate a welcoming and safe establishment.
